HUMPHRIES-SHERARD

A beautiful marriage of Wednesday evening, of interest to a wide circle of friends and relatives, was that of Miss Myrtle Humphries to Mr. Grier Sherard which was impressively solemnized in the Providence Baptist church at seven o'clock, Rev. J. B. Bozeman officiating.

The chancel was embowered with quantities of Easter lilies, spirea and stately ferns. Southern smilax trailed carressingly over the walls and the edges of the floor baskets which held clusters of Easter lilies.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Matt Humphries, wore a suit of twill cord in blue with trimmings of pewter gray and an advance spring hat of new design in pewter gray. White rosebuds and valley lilies formed her bouquet.

Miss Verna Humphries maid of honor, wore a becoming frock of pink taffeta embroidered in silver and a cluster of Killarney roses at the waist line added a bright touch to her costume.

The bridesmaids, Miss Myrtle Webber, Miss Kathleen Adkins, Miss Carrie May Gibert and Miss Elizabeth Thompson were attired in yellow, blue, orchid and green taffeta gowns fashioned with silver. They carried sweet peas.

Frances Humphries and Velma Jeanne Wilkerson were the little flower girls. They wore frocks of white organdie with pink sashes and carried baskets filled with sweet peas.

Mr. Frank Sherard was best man and the groomsmen included: Mr. Glenn Baskin, Mr. Walter Sherard, Mr. Arch Humphries and Mr. Bill Reid.

Before the ceremony Mrs. Glenn Inman sang with great tenderness and sweetness, "Love's Old Sweet Song," and "Because." The wedding march, played by Miss Maggie Evans, herald the coming of the bridal party and during the ceremony Miss Evans on the piano and Mr. Gorgon Westward on the violin rendered with exquisite skill, "To a Wild Rose."

Mr. and Mrs. Sherard are spending ten days in Atlanta and Charleston, after which they will come to their home in Abbeville.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Humphries and is one of the town's most attractive young women. She was graduated from the nurses' training school, Pryor's hospital, in Chester, last June, and has been connected with the City Hospital and doing private nursing since her graduation.

Mr. Sherard attended Davidson college, and is very popular in his home town, where he has business interest. He is a cousin of Dr. S. B. Sherard, of this city.

The out-of-town guests at the wedding were, Mrs. J. H. Sherard, Miss Maggie Evans, Miss Carrie May Gibert, Miss Elizabeth Thompson, Mr. Frank Sherard, Mr. Walter Sherard, Mr. Bill Reid, Mr. John Calvert, of Abbeville; Miss Ruby Westbrook, of Blacksburg and Mr. Glenn Baskin, of Honea Path.

A beautiful reception was given Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs.

W. T. Humphries at their home on Depot street in compliment to the bridal party and visitors. The living-room, where the guests were received, was bright with vases and bowls of pink carnations and ferns and the prettily appointed table was graced with a basket filled with pink and white carnations, the handle tied with a bow of pink and white tulle.

Assisting Mrs. Humphries, Mrs. Glenn Inman and Miss Verna Humphries in the dining room were Misses Ivor and Hannah Brown, Miss Gladys Twitty, and Misses Hattie Lou and Catherine Littlejohn.—Gaffney Ledger.

Thomas H. Ince's Great Drama of Life and Love

"LYING LIPS"

Oh, The Light That Lies, in Woman's Eyes--and Lies and Lies, and Lies!

THROUGH the Ages, from days Primitive to days Modern, from the quaint, quiet lassies of the Colonial fireside to the dazzling elite of the 1921 ballroom, the light that lies, in woman's eyes, has showered its mystery-rays into the very Heart of Mankind.

Happiness, Sorrow, Success, Failure—even the tolerance or intolerance of a Nation itself—bow before the light that lies, in woman's eyes, and lies, and lies, and lies.

Then speak the lips, and in the reckoning which follows, there is revealed a mighty drama of Life and Love; a story of one woman and two men, trapped in the net of circumstances, forever struggling for the right to rule their Souls.
